

When Should You Consider an MRI Scan in Chennai?

Our body can sometimes have health problems that are hard to find. We may feel pain, weakness, or other changes. In some cases, a doctor may ask for an MRI scan to learn more about the problem.

An MRI scan helps doctors see clear pictures of the inside of the body. It can show the brain, spine, joints, muscles, and other soft parts. These pictures help doctors understand what may be causing a health problem.

What Is an MRI Scan?

MRI stands for Magnetic Resonance Imaging. It uses a strong magnet and radio waves to make pictures of the body. It does not use X-rays.

An MRI scan is often used to check the brain, back, neck, knees, and other body parts. It can help doctors find signs of injury, swelling, or disease.

When Do You Need an MRI Scan?

A doctor may suggest an MRI scan if you have:

- Pain that does not go away.
- A back or neck problem.
- A joint injury.
- Changes in vision or balance.
- Headaches that need further checks.
- Signs of a brain or nerve problem.

An MRI scan is not needed for every health problem. Your doctor will decide if it is right for you.

Benefits of Getting an MRI Scan

An MRI scan gives clear pictures of many parts of the body. It can help doctors study problems that may not be easy to see with other tests.

It can also help doctors plan the next steps in your care. Finding a problem early may help you get the right care at the right time. However, an MRI scan cannot find every disease, and the results must be checked by a trained doctor.

How to Choose MRI Scans in Chennai

What Happens During an MRI Scan?

You will lie on a scan bed while the machine takes pictures. The scan may make loud tapping sounds, so you may be given ear protection. It is important to stay still during the test.

The scan time depends on the body part being checked. Some scans may take 15 to 60 minutes or longer.
